

We Rate Dogs

Have you ever heard about a twitter account that rates dogs? Well, I just heard about it too. The twitter handle is @dog_rates, just in case you want to check them out on twitter. It will interest you to know that as at the time of this writing, WeRateDogs have over 9.4M followers and they are verified by twitter. This twitter account rates people's dog. The funny thing is that the dogs are meant to be rated over 10 but they rate some dogs higher than 10 for example 11/10, 12/10, 13/10, 14/10, probably because they are too cute.

I carried out an analysis on the data collected from the twitter account. After preparing the data for analysis, I wanted to find out the popular dog names, the dog that had the highest likes and also find out the count of the various dog stages of the dogs. From the analysis, a dog named Stephan had the highest likes and guess what he was rated 13 out of 10. How cute is that?

If you have been cracking your brain looking for awesome dog names for your dogs, you are in luck, because from the analysis I found out that names like Charlie, Copper, Lucy are pretty beautiful and popular names. I can't wait to get my own dog so I can name him Charlie, lol.

There were four different dog stages of the dogs that were rated namely, puppo, pupper, floofer and doggo. Floofer is a big dog and it was the dog stage that was least tweeted about, I was wondering why. I also found out that Pupper is a small dog stage and it had the most tweets. I suspect most people like dogs that are in the Pupper stage.

